Now, let's go back to the blank Support Us page and learn how to add sections. If you recall, a page is made up of sections. Right now, it's just the header and the footer. To add a section under the header, hover over the header and you'll see this blue button that says 'Add section'. Click it, and you can then choose from a variety of templates, or you can create a blank section. Let's start with a blank section.

In a section, you can add a variety of things, ranging from text to images to buttons, and a lot more. To add an element to your section, click on this plus icon on the left hand side, Add Element. We are going to make this section a large title banner, so let's add some text. You can see a text box appeared, and you can change the text by clicking on 'Edit text', move it around, and change its properties like font, color, alignment, and size. Let's put our title, Support Us, and let's center align it and make it bigger.

Now, let's change the background of this section. Currently, it's white. You can change it to a solid color, image, or video. Let's use an image. To do this, click out of the text box and onto the section background, and click 'Edit section' right here. We are on the backgrounds tab, and here we will select 'Image' and then 'Add Image'. Here, you can upload your images or choose from a library of free images. Let's pick from the free images. Here, you can search for photos; let's type 'Food in paper bags' and pick one we like. I kind of like this one, so let's use it. Now, the text is not showing up well on the image, so we can change the overlay opacity to tone down the image a bit and make it darker. And then we can make the text white. Finally, I think this header is too tall, so let's make it narrower. Hover over the header and go over to these blue arrows. Here, you can click and drag to adjust the height of the header. And then move the text up.
Let's add a couple more sections to the page. Remember, to add a section underneath a pre-existing one, hover over the section and then click the 'Add section' button that appears underneath it.

Let's use this 'Services' template. Now, we have this template but can move or change anything that's over here. So let's say I want to swap the places of this text and the image. I can click and drag to select all these text boxes at once, and then just drag them over to the left. And I'll drag the image to the right. And I realize I need this section to be taller, so I go down here to these arrows and drag down to make it bigger, and I'll move the image and the text down. Remember, click and drag to select multiple items at once. I'm going to fill this page in with text; you can put your own, or use the same text I'm using; it's available in the Test file under Resources.

Now that we've put in our text, let's say I want to link to the Our Impact page. Remember in the previous video that I hid that page from the menu? Let's say now I'm done with the page but only want the link to be visible from the Support Us page instead of being in the menu. Let's add a button that leads to that page.

Let's go to the 'Add Element' icon and pick 'Button' right here. You can drag this button around and put it anywhere in your section. You can change how big it is like this. By clicking on 'Edit button', you can change its design and also point the button to a specific page. Let's do that first, actually. Under the 'General' tab, let's change the button text to 'Our Impact'. Make sure this dropdown under 'Link To' says Page – this means it's going to link to a page within the same website. We're going to go in the dropdown and choose 'Our Impact'. Now let's go into Style and change the color of the button. I'm going to go with this shade of green. Since this is light green, I want the text to be black so you can read it better. Right now, when we hover over the button it turns black with white text. If you don't like this, you can go over to 'hover' right here and change that just like we changed the button and text color. I like this so I'm keeping it.

You can use buttons to link to any page on your website, as well as other websites, email addresses, file downloads, and much more. To make a button for any of these other purposes, you can go back to General and change the 'Link to' using this dropdown to any of these things.

One other notable feature on the Future Builders Foundation website is the donate button in the header, if you recall. Putting a button in the header is a little different than putting a button anywhere else on the website, so let's go over that. To start, click anywhere on the header, and on this menu that pops up, click on where it says 'Edit header'. There's a lot of settings that you can mess around with here; to add a button, let's go to the Elements tab and toggle on 'Show button' right here.

These are some of the main things used on the Future Builders Foundation website. For the sake of brevity, I won't be going super in-depth into all these other features here, but you are more than welcome to create your own test website and play around with these features. That covers some of the overarching basics of the functions of the website. Next, we will be going over the donation form on the website.
